CHAPTER II
Woodrow Wilson's Relations with Grover Cleveland—His Interest in Princeton.

Turning back to those college days when as a student and a newspaper correspondent representing the Associated Press, the author came in constant contact with Woodrow Wilson, lecturer on constitutional government and president of Princeton university, there were unmistakable signs of the power of a great intellect bursting with a desire to break the fetters of convention and project itself into the controversies of the hour. As with peculiar anticipation of later day events, the thesis which Woodrow Wilson had written when he received his degree of doctor of laws from Princeton University, "The Federal Government," supplemented later by another work on "The State," both of which have been the standard textbooks of many college courses. His interest in the subject was not a passing fancy. In 1902 as president of Princeton university was a curious counterpart of subsequent appeals for service to humanity—the student who had dedicated himself to the nation's service. It was beginning to think more of a broader sphere of usefulness than the narrow confines of academic research. If it was a seclusive person, popular with his classmates as a student, and later very highly respected as a professor and lecturer, Mr. Wilson never constantly to the serious side of educational matters. His dissent with the modern college method was that it prolonged to an extent the age of boyhood and did not always begin soon enough the earnest teachings of manhood.

I can see him walking slowly across the campus of Princeton, tired in accident of a cold, and as he walked that autumn day of 1907, his eyes on the gravel path that led toward Nassau Hall, where the formal exercises of the university for the year were to be held. Suddenly, like a bolt from the blue, a freshman feeling from the side of the path, a student who was pursuing his college career at the university president just as he was crossing in front of Marquand chapel.

"I should think," he burst forth eagerly, "that you would respect this sacred place and perform your pranks elsewhere."

Not long afterwards Dr. Wilson, as he was then called, proposed that this mild form of hazing or "horsing" freshmen in a name derived from the fact that the student who was pursuing his college career at the university president just as he was crossing in front of Marquand chapel.

Former Head of Kaiser's Army Wears Iron Cross As Trial Opens.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Berlin.—The socialist news service today publishes what purports to be a copy of the indictment against the defendants in the Ludendorff-Hitler "putsch" at Munich last November.

According to this extract, the conduct of Dr. Von Kahr, the former Bavarian dictator, and General Von Lossow, who headed the Bavarian revolution, was held to be "criminal," although they had relations with Adolf Hitler and the others and were well informed of their plans.

The indictment describes Hitler as the prime mover, asserting that he aimed at the overthrow of the governments of Bavaria and the Reich and that he attempted the seizure of state power in his own name.

General Ludendorff is declared to have been acquainted with all the plans for "this violent, unconstitutional" coup, and that he acted as leader of the newly formed "national army."

Munich, Bavaria.—The sanguinary events of last November began again a topic of intense public interest today with the opening of the trial of former Field Marshal Ludendorff and his nine associates in their part in the attempt to overthrow the government.

While provisions for the press have been made in the military academy in the trial is being held, the most important of the testimony will be taken behind closed doors and the public sittings are not expected to contain much of interest to the facts already published.

The proceedings are expected to consume but a few days.

Aside from Ludendorff, the defendants include Dr. Adolf Hitler, leader of the Bavarian "Fascist" movement, former Police Chief Goebbels, Dr. Dietrich Eckhardt, a socialist, and five men accused of being Hitler's aides.

Four defendants are reported to have gone on a hunger strike in the military academy, which is used as a temporary courthouse, and are being force-fed.

George Randolph Chester, author and playwright, died early today. Mr. Chester was 55 years old.

Mr. Chester and his wife worked late last night on a new story. Shortly after midnight, he complained of pains in his chest and Mrs. Chester applied hot towels, which failed to relieve him and he took a hot bath and retired, joking with Mrs. Chester about his pains.

$100,000 Salary Bill Voted; Seven Streets Re-Named

Adoption of a $100,000 salary ordinance for 1924 and passage of an ordinance to re-name seven city streets, were the outstanding features of Monday night's council meeting.

By adoption of the salary ordinance, the council decided to avoid confusion of streets and avenues having the same title.

Park street is now Water street. McKim street becomes South Jackson street. Center street becomes McKinley street. Washington avenue becomes Madison street. West Bluff street becomes Laurel street. Hickory street becomes Harding street. Clarence street becomes Marshall place.

These name changes are effective at once but no change is made in the street numbers.

Councilman A. J. Gibbons was chairman of the remaining committee and a mass of suggestions were recommended. It was proposed to change the names of Park avenue and Center avenue but later it was decided to change Park and Center streets instead. The Hickory and Marshall place.

Bandits Run Away With Bank's Safe

Moore, Ill.—Bandits carried away a $2,000 safe containing $15,000 in cash and securities from the state bank of Kinross, at Kinross, Ill., 12 miles from here, early today, with the aid of an automobile, a motor truck and a hand truck.

The burglary was discovered shortly before 6 a. m., and Sheriff James Mack was notified but the robbers long since had escaped.

The bandits showed ingeniousness in removing the safe. They left their motor truck near an elevator three blocks from the bank and drove to the bank in their automobile, which was loaded with a hand truck with which to remove the safe, which was about four feet high.

Upper House in Wrangle of Critics

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Washington.—William G. McAdoo's candidacy for the democratic presidential nomination became the vehicle for a parliamentary skirmish today in the senate.

Senator Moore, republican, of New Hampshire, wanted to insert into the congressional record a newspaper abstract of an address delivered at St. Louis last night by Senator Hiram Johnson, also candidate for the democratic presidential nomination.

He attacked Mr. McAdoo for his legal services to E. L. Doherty and Charles W. Morse.

Democratic Leader Robinson twice blocked the move, but the New Hampshire senator was insistent and finally read the abstract to the senate, explaining that he was "wholly unwilling that the readers of the congressional record should have the vigorous phraseology which the Missouri senator had used at St. Louis."

When Senator Moore concluded his address, Senator Johnson, a republican, also candidate for the democratic presidential nomination, quoted Senator Stanford, republican, of California, as saying that Mr. McAdoo had "been given a clean bill of health" in the matter.

Senator Johnson then obtained unanimous consent to read an article from a Portland, Ore., newspaper, quoting Senator Stanford, republican, of California, as saying that Mr. McAdoo had "been given a clean bill of health" in the matter.

TELEGRAMS HURRY OIL COMMITTEE INTO SECRET MEET

FAIL AND McLEAN ARE INVOLVED IN NEW EVIDENCE.

PUBLICITY DENIED

Investigating Solons Differ on "Sensational" Value of Messages.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington.—Presented with a sheaf of telegrams sent from Washington to Albert B. Fall and Edward D. McLean, publisher of the Washington Post at Palm Beach, Florida, the senate oil committee suddenly went into executive session today to examine them.

In ordering the hearing room cleared Mr. Lenroot said that any of the telegrams found to be relevant to the inquiry would be read in public.

At the end of the long secret meeting, Mr. Lenroot said that the committee had not yet reached a decision on whether to hold a public hearing. Another member of the committee, Senator Adams, democrat, Colorado, declared no messages from individual committee members had been found so far. He said that there was a difference of opinion as to whether anything "sensational" had been found.

He said that he did not think there is anything highly sensational, said Senator Adams.

Resume Wednesday

The chairman dismissed all the witnesses who were waiting to testify at today's open session, and said that when the public hearings are resumed tomorrow he will put into the record such of the messages as the committee believes pertinent to its inquiry.

Some senators said the records of the telegraph companies, examined by the committee, showed McLean had been in contact with the office of The Washington Post at Palm Beach and that he was kept closely informed as to developments in the oil case by his employees here. Most of the Western telegrams admitted were addressed to McLean, but there were some to Fall, according to committee members.

The McLean messages were purely personal or of an advisory nature, and were not related to the oil inquiry. Senators also said code words were used in several.

Council Is Present

William J. Lamb, counsel for Mr. McLean, was present at the re-opening of house hearings at the invitation of Senator Walsh, who had called a conference with him. The purpose was to discuss the evidence that the time for the examination of Mr. McLean by the committee still was undetermined.

A subpoena was issued today for G. D. Wahlberg, former secretary of the oil committee, who will be questioned as to the identity of the person to whom he has testified that he delivered the telegrams. At the time of his testimony, the committee thought the reference was to an employee of Sinclair, but since then there have been reports that it was an agent of the oil company.

In this connection Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, announced that there was no present intention of summoning William J. Hayes, former postmaster general.

Senator Walsh also said he did not plan now to summon Attorney General Clegg, who is questioning as to his statements in his testimony to Senator Walsh, republican, Ohio, that he had dealt in Sinclair oil stocks after the leasing of Teapot field to Sinclair. Chairman Daugherty would not be called until after expert accountants had finished their examination of brokers' books.

THOUSANDS HAVE KIDNEY TROUBLE AND NEVER SUSPECT IT

Applicants for Insurance Often Rejected.

Judging from reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public there is one preparation that has been very successful in overcoming these conditions. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of success.

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies, in an interview of the subject, made the astonishing statement that one reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of those whose applications are declined do not even suspect that they have the disease. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send, Blughamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper. —Advertisement.

CONTROL OF LAKE

BOTTOMS DISPUTED

Does State Own Marl Deposits, Question Involved at Hearing.

Madison—Whether the state controls bottoms of lakes and therefore owns marl deposits in lakes is the unusual question involved in a hearing scheduled before the state railroad commission on Feb. 28, at Stevens Point, according to the commission's docket announced today.

A contest of the state's title to marl in Lake Koshong is involved in the case, brought by J. G. Somers and others. It is claimed by the applicants that they have title to the lake bed through warranty deed. In other cases, it is said the state commission has ruled the state controls the lake bottom.

Nine cases are included on the railroad commission's docket for the present week. They follow:

Feb. 25, Madison, terminal switching regulations for railroads, investigation begun by commission.

Feb. 26, Madison, investigation as to advisability of regulations requiring targets on railroad switches.

Feb. 26, Marathon, Marathon vs. Northwestern railroad, discontinuing train service.

Feb. 27, Red Granite, Red Granite vs. Northwestern, train service.

Feb. 28, Viroqua, City vs. Milwaukee, railroad, truck connections.

Feb. 28, Washington, anthracite coal rate case hearing.

Feb. 28, Stevens Point, marl permit from Lake Koshong.

Feb. 29, Madison, application of Lishon Telephone company, to increase rates.

Feb. 29, Milwaukee, investigation of complaints against Wisconsin Telephone company, for alleged failure to install meters.

Why SOLITE

A PERFECT GASOLINE

Is a Better Gasoline

If you have used Solite you have had ample evidence of its superiority over the other so-called "high-test" gasolines—but perhaps you would like to know why it is so much better.

In a word—because it is made by the Burton "cracking" process.

"Cracking" is a trade term used by refiners to describe the processes by which certain fractions of petroleum are transformed into those highly volatile compounds needful to produce a volatile gasoline that does not sacrifice power.

"Cracking" is a term susceptible of gross misinterpretation.

Some competitors have seen fit to turn the term to their own ends by making it appear that a cracked gasoline is inferior.

Such misrepresentation is misleading and that it is a misrepresentation is attested by no less an authority than the Bureau of Mines which stated in a Department of Interior Bulletin—

"There is reason to believe that, instead of being inferior, the cracked gasolines are really superior for use in automobile engines as regards both mileage and power obtainable."

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has manufactured and sold well over two billion gallons of cracked gasolines.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) recommends Solite — A Perfect Gasoline—as a highly volatile gasoline that will give you better service than so-called "high-test" gasolines—because Solite drives the piston the full stroke under power.

For a Light Gasoline it is Low - Priced —

SOLITE—23.3 Cents Per Gallon

To Help Girls

Multiply their beauty—as did I
By Edna Wallace Hopper

I was a plain girl, as my friends pictures show. But I made myself a famous beauty. I became the rage. Now, after 40 years in the limelight, I remain a beauty still. To all who see me on the stage and elsewhere I look like a girl in her teens.

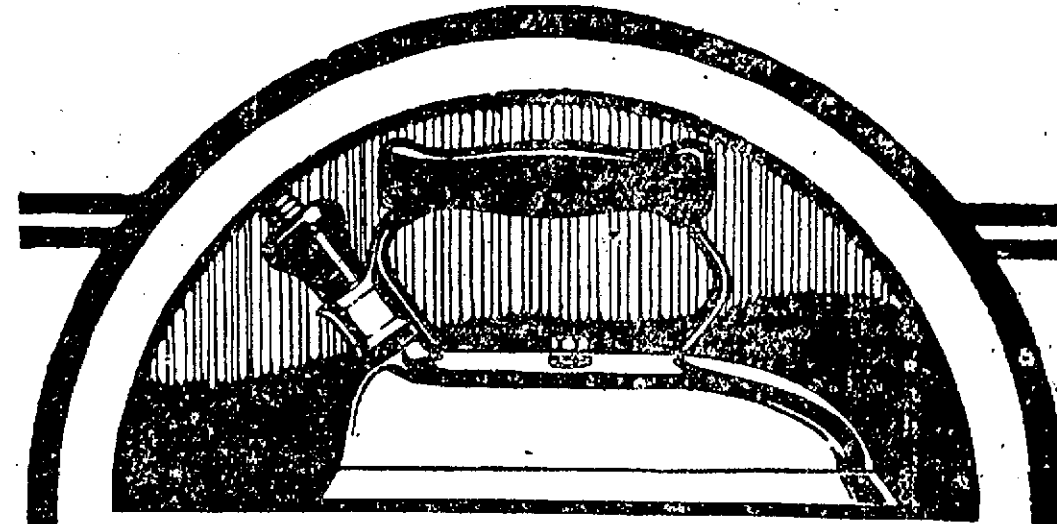

I owe this to my mother. She went with me to search the world for the greatest beauty helps in existence. She also lived a life of glory due to beauty and perennial youth. Since then I have helped many girls and women to similar results. Now I am placing the helps I found at every woman's call.

White Youth Clay
My rosy clear complexion is due to White Youth Clay. Not like the crude and muddy clays so many still employ. This is a superior, white, refined and dainty, perfected by 20 years of scientific study.

Clay purges the skin of all that clogs or mars it. It renews and refines—brings that rosy glow which so amazes and delights. It firms the skin, combats all lines and wrinkles, reduces enlarged pores. It is bringing to millions multiple beauty and decades of added youth.

But my White Youth Clay, perfected by French experts, does vastly more than any old-type clay. Every girl and woman should employ it as a duty to herself. The cost is 50c and $1.

My Facial Youth
My Facial Youth is a beauty cleanser, now famous the world over. The greatest beauty experts use this formula today. It contains no animal, no vegetable fat. The skin cannot

Everything You Want in an Iron

What do you want in an iron? An even heat clear to the tip, to insure beautiful results? A big ironing surface without extra weight, to shorten ironing time? Beveled edges at the base to eliminate the need for bending over to see the work? A comfortable handle to ease the forearm and the grip? Of course you want all those things, and we don't know of any iron that provides them all but the beautiful Westinghouse Iron.

My hair grows finer every year. It is my chief attraction. I have never known dandruff, falling hair or gray hair. All this is due to my Hair Youth, based on Bifidines of hair study. I apply it with an eye dropper, directly to the scalp. There it combats the hardened oil and dandruff which stifle the hair roots. It stimulates and fertilizes. It has brought to many of my friends beautiful heads of hair. No man or woman who attains like results from any other cream. My Hair Youth costs 50c and $1 with eye dropper.

All drugstore and toilet counters now supply Edna Wallace Hopper's beauty helps. My Beauty Book comes with each, also a guarantee. I hope that all women who love youth and beauty will learn what these things do. Edna Wallace Hopper, 535 Lake Shore Drive, Chicago.

Iowa and Coolidge

In support of the statements in an article in the Saturday and Sunday Gazette predicting the nomination of Calvin Coolidge at Cleveland on the first ballot, comes the report that fifty Iowa counties held conventions Saturday and all with one exception endorsed the president. Judge Kenyon received the endorsement of a single county. There are 49 other counties left to select delegates. In his own county, resolutions commending Brookhart were introduced but ignored. That would seem to show which way the political wind blows and Iowa is very likely to have more delegates for Coolidge in the national convention than were given him in the predictions in the Gazette—in fact almost solidly Coolidge.

Daugherty Recovers on Another War Fraud Case.

Attorney General Daugherty in the federal court at Nashville, Tenn., Saturday, recovered by stipulation, $1,700,000 for the government growing out of the fraud in the sale of the Old Hickory powder plant near the Tennessee capital. That makes close to $6,000,000 which the department of justice has collected from war fraud cases brought under the attorney general. There are other innumerable suits pending in federal courts in which the question of fraud is at issue and these involve many millions of dollars. The Old Hickory plant, costing $85,000,000 was sold by the government to private persons, one of whom, E. C. Morse, was an official of the government, being director of sales of the war department. He and his two partners have been indicted criminally and these suits are left standing. After the sale the property was turned over to the Nashville Industrial Corporation against which the government brought suit to recover and now has settled for $1,700,000 in cash. It may be noted that among other parties bitterly opposing Daugherty are the war profiteers who have been made to disgorge some of the millions and others against whom the department of justice is pressing legal action.

Germany Able to Pay.

The report of the Dawes commission that Germany is able to pay the reparations, that all that is needed is the stabilization of the currency by the ordinary methods of good business—all of which is indicated in advance reports from the commission, is good news to a world sick to death of the attitude of the German financiers and industrialists since the armistice. It carries with it the evidence that Germany has been stalling on the reparations all this time and that as a nation there was an evident prearranged plan to commit suicide with the paper mark, bring the people to the very condition of starvation which they have been going through and finally make an appeal to the organized sympathy of the world for the lost and undone state into which "oppression of the allies" have brought her. The commission however has no sympathy in its findings in reference to actual conditions. The ragged children brought in to influence the world jury do not enter as elements in the calculations of the Dawes commission. They may be a part of the theatrical display put on the front platform to attract the easily influenced people of the United States but otherwise they cut no figure. We shall have more of the result of the commission's work later, and detailed information as to what can be done by Germany as well as for Germany. If it needs to be made a loan for establishment of a currency, we shall respond here as we have for Austria, and for Japan, a few days ago when that nation wanted a loan. But the time when Germany can longer whine about her oppression and get away with it, has apparently gone by.

We pity the first woman who casts her hat into the presidential ring. The others will all try to beat it for style and most likely will.

News comes that the white pine is returning to Wisconsin and that its second growth in many places has demonstrated that in the barren lands we will some day, with any attention to its cultivation, reforest our cut-over wastes with the pine. In the economic arrangement of things this is an important step to take. Wisconsin should have a program of reforestation.

From the American Legion's press agent one gathers the information that if we are to take a fast ride this week we shall have to be "All Aboard" early.

No man can serve the country who is rich for if he has money he will at once be under suspicion. That is the attitude now in congress. Also no man can be a candidate except he is a rich man unless he has a lot of friends who are willing to put up a campaign fund for the primary, and then he opens himself to the suspicion that he will have to play with the people who put up the campaign fund. It takes a small fortune to run for a prominent office under the primary system and therefore the poor man does not run. Ab-

THE JIBAROS OF ECUADOR

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.
Washington—What it means for a people to have lightning as their chief interest in life is graphically shown by the latest and most complete account of the Jibaro Indians.
The Jibaros of Ecuador are known as the fiercest Indians of South America, and there are few, if any, fiercer tribes on earth. They fight on slight pretext and to the death.
When Spanish adventurers invaded Ecuador, back in the 16th century, they founded several colonies near Jibaro villages. The ruthless Spaniards had found it easy to make slaves of the South American Indians. But the Jibaros had no intention of being lapped upon. When the Spaniards became too aggressive the Jibaros advanced. After a swift and terrible conflict, the town of Golden Seville was a desolate waste. The two other Spanish colonies nearby were fallen. The Spanish fighters who had not escaped before the attack were dead. Only the young Spanish women were left to tell the story, and they never did because they were carried off by the Indians. It is assumed these Spanish maidens were added to the harem of Jibaro warriors, because women of enemy tribes were often captured for that purpose, and today some of the Jibaros have a lightness of skin which would indicate Caucasian blood.
The Indians who defied so successfully the great Spanish conquest still defy all comers. They are not hospitable—to any one who has legitimate business. Jibaro warriors have been photographed by more than one white man. But they are suspicious and easily antagonized.
The latest account of the Jibaros, by Rafael Karsten, has been published by the Smithsonian Institution. Judging by Mr. Karsten's detailed explanations of the warlike activities of the Indians he must have spent considerable time in close and often exciting contact with them. But how he made friends with them, learned their difficult language, and won permission to photograph their ceremonies are facts which he omits entirely from his report.
His photographs show the young savages looking decidedly pleasant. It is difficult to realize that they live in a lurid atmosphere of fends and wars. So insatiable an appetite for violent warfare as the Jibaros seem to possess must effect every phase of their life. We learn from the report that the Jibaro religion, superstitions, feasts, architecture, marriage and sickness are all bound up with war associations, real or fancied. The Jibaro can not get away from his profession wherever he goes.
To take a typical situation: An Indian offends another of the same tribe and they quarrel. Perhaps the insulted Indian impudently slays the other. Or perhaps the quarrel goes on until it happens that a member of one of the antagonistic families falls ill and dies. This misfortune would be considered the result of sorcery by the enemy tribesman. Whatever the cause of death, the relatives of the deceased vow vengeance on the supposed offender against the family honor. This starts a feud, similar to the famous Corsican vendettas, or even to the mountain feuds of our own country.
The inter-tribal warfare of the Jibaros is conducted according to a rigid set of rules. The family of the dead Indian may kill the supposed guilty party or a member of his family. But after one man is killed the dead man is avenged and the feud is technically over. If, however, an avenging expedition happens to end in a free-for-all fight and a humbler of people are killed, then the guerrilla warfare may go on for years, until the score is even or until enthusiasm for that particular feud dies out.

A different set of rules and ceremonies accompany warfare when the enemy is not of a Jibaro tribe. These fighting Indians attack other tribes mainly to maintain their own supremacy. As they are a nomadic people, they are constantly on the move, and as a man's claims to distinction rest mainly on his prowess in combat, the Jibaros know little about arbitration. An insult or an offense starts them promptly off on the warpath.
Elaborate ceremonies which are supposed to have magic power to give victory, and which undoubtedly serve to put the warriors into fighting trim mentally, precede the attack. There are dances, a ritual-like conversation and a war song. A few lines from the song and the character of the preparations for war:
"My brother, my brother, let us make war together. I recently I will be engaged in fighting! All right, my brother, come, may he come! And may he take my life if he kills me. If he kills me, my sons will certainly see (that it will be revenge). May he kill some one else!"
A Jibaro never makes a trophy of the head of another Jibaro but a victory over a foreign tribe is no cause for rejoicing unless one or several head trophies are brought back by the fighters. These head trophies are one of the most interesting features of Jibaro customs. Just as the American Indian once proudly collected scalps, so, centuries after, the Jibaros have collected heads.

The head is much more than a souvenir of victory. It is a symbol which carries with it great power. The fiercer and braver the enemy the more valuable and significant the head is as a trophy. Often, when an enemy is killed his body is swiftly rescued by friends, so that the Jibaro slayer fails to capture the coveted head. But if the ceremonies which preceded the attack were perfect, a trophy feast follows the triumphal return to the village.
It takes weeks to prepare the trophy, and the ceremonial feasts in which it figures are scattered over a period of from one to three years. The head, from which the skull is removed, is put through a series of gruesome processes until it is about the size of an orange. It still has the appearance of being a human head, and the hair is carefully left attached, because the hair is regarded as the seat of the soul of the dead enemy.
This trophy is supposed to hold some of the dead man's life force for the victor, but after many symbolic ceremonies the head is completely bereft of its malevolent power and becomes a permanent source of blessing to the slayer and to his entire family as well.

raham Lincoln would never have been able to pay the mortgage on a letter to each of the qualified voters of Illinois had he been a candidate under the primary system. We might think this over.
The strongest man in South Dakota has been found. He lifted a mortgage from his farm this year.
Supposing all those who voted in 1920 remained away from the polls in 1924 and let the 27 million who failed to vote, decide the election? What an uncertain result that might be!

There never was a time when so many democrats were interested in purifying the republican party.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST
A TALK WITH FORTUNE
Well, some begrudge the dollars and the dimes for buying playthings.
And some there are think lollypops not worth their paltry cost.
And some deny even to women folk the pretty and the gay things.
A scarlet ribbon means to them the silver that is lost.
But I will buy them lollypops so long as I've a dime to spend.
And I will buy them ribbons red to tie their dresses around.
And I will buy them pretty things and think it is not crime to spend.
And I will keep a little house where laughter shall abound.
Away with such frugality! Though rich I never grow to be.
Though never will my wallet swell with arrogance and pride.
A bank account I'd rather miss than have one which I know to be
A bank account of little joys and pleasures I'd deny.
So Fortune, if you cannot come with lollypops and playthings,
If I must rob them of every wish they utter, huge or small,
If I must rob their lives of all the pretty and the gay things,
I'll keep their love and glad along—you see, I'll keep them all!

SPUR OF THE MOMENT

We suppose the elements who are always howling that the United States is controlled by a "financial oligarchy" will change it to "oligarchy."

HOROSCOPE

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 1924.
Another uncertain day. Astrologers read that the Sun, Neptune and Venus are all adverse, while Mercury alone is friendly.
During the busy hours routine work should occupy attention for the influences tend to uncertainty in decision and poor judgment. It is not a propitious day for any one who seek any sort of employment. Delay at any cost will prevent the sort of disappointment which appears when the Sun is in sinister aspect.
Women are subject to unfavorable direction while the configuration prevails. They may be easily deceived and they readily raise antagonism in the business world, while this day's planetary government prevails.
It is not a happy wedding day, if the seers are to be believed, for the odds indicate lack of congeniality, suspicion and deception for lovers.
Importers and dealers in luxuries that appeal to women may find this rule unfavorable. A new fad may be costly to those who sell.
The ever changing and capricious Venus who writes. Editors and publishers should benefit from the aspect which makes for sensational news and many advertisements.
Dangers of accidents is supposed to increase under this aspect of the stars.
The King of Greece, whose troubles were foretold, owes his misfortunes to the Sun's aspect to Uranus, the seers declare.
The tendency of women to exploit their personal charms will result in extreme developments within the year, and then a decided reaction will take place.
Modesty is to return as a fashion, whether it is a real possession of womanhood or not, the seers declare.
The use of narcotics and the consumption of bootleg liquor will not abate within the twelfth month, it is foretold.
Persons whose birthdate it is may have a year of much stress and they have the aspect of Venus in business affairs, if they concentrate attention on finances.
Children born on this day may have many ups and downs in life and should be trained most carefully to conserve their talents and other resources. These subjects of Venus may be endowed with great musical talent and extreme artistic nature.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.
Away to Florida.
My husband and I had planned to spend a few months in Florida, but after reading your talk on hookworm disease we have hesitated about going there. Just what would we do in visiting Miami and stopping at road hotels in that part of Florida?
Answer.—The real estate agents would bother you more than the hookworms. If I were your husband's wife I wouldn't go any place but the hookworms spoil my fun. Keep your shoes on when you go for a walk and you'll run no risk of getting hookworms. The pollution of the soil as there is in Florida is in the backwoods sections only. In the city sections the disposal of human excrement. No danger of getting hookworm disease in or about Miami.
Calcium or Lime.
What quantity of calcium or lime salt do you advise for use with salt to supply the deficiency in ultra-traceable elements? (Mrs. D. K. C.)
Answer.—Mix the salt for use in the salt cellar with calcium carbonate, half a pound of calcium carbonate to the table in place of straight salt. A simpler, perhaps better way to get more lime into your system is by using more cheese of any and all varieties, more peanuts as a substantial food, more than a mere relish, and more cabbage.

Q. Many critics have "thought into" Watts' painting varying significance of a tropical nature. In "G. F. Watts" by Hugh Macmillan, there is an interpretation of the painting, portions of which we quote: "We perceive that, while the attitude is one of repose, it is not so listless as it appears. There is a great deal of latent energy in it. It is beginning to be stirred with fresh strength and though the eyes are now together hidden, one star shimmers in the dimness, prophetic of that morning star into which Hesperus will be changed, and which will at last lead her to the cradle of a new high of joy and light and blessedness." Speaking of the fact that the lyre has left but one string, the author says: "One string always left, however empty and desolate may be the lyre of life on which the still, sad music of humanity might be played; and from this other strings are to be turned into happier circumstances.... Hope stirs and strains to hear the note of the one string of her lyre—the concentrated music that can come from the remaining chord of a broken lyre. We might suppose that by placing the figure of Hope on the summit of the globe, Watts meant to indicate the universality of the grace."

Delegate Candidates Must File Expenditures

Madison—Candidates for delegates to the national conventions of political parties are subject to the state corrupt practices act and must file financial statements of expenditures during campaigns as required by law, the attorney general's department today informed Secretary of State Fred R. Zimmerman.
The ruling held, however, that limitations as specified under the law as to amounts of expenditures do not apply to convention delegate candidates.
It was further held that candidates of one party or group may select the same person or persons as their campaign managers.

The Wagon Wheel

She knew perfectly well where the coffee was, but pleaded ignorance. "Where things were kept in this other woman's kitchen in order to gain time. Either the judge or his wife would come home soon. Once some one else was in the kitchen to keep the sheriff company, she would be bad if she could not manage to slip out and give Derr warning. Then it occurred to her that she could not where Derr was spending the evening. More frankly, "Damn!" she exclaimed. "What matter? Can't you find the coffee?"

She could have slipped him for his maddening solicitude. In a minute, she snatched with impatience. "Say, look here—" began the sheriff, but stopped as a knock sounded on the door. "Come in," said the girl, her hand poised on the edge of a shelf. It was Charlie Shale who opened the door and entered. He gave the sheriff a scornful expression. "So this is where you went."

The girl was speechless. Charlie Shale made as if to close the door, but the door encountered the hand of a man and was flung open again. "I guess I'll come in too," said the familiar voice of Bill Derr. "Come in, Charlie. Don't block the doorway."

Derr promptly lost his head. "Go back, Bill!" she cried and dashed plump in front of the sheriff. The sheriff as promptly flung an arm around her waist and a hand over her mouth, twisted her expertly through a doorway into the dark sitting room and slammed the door. All this in almost less time than it required to say Tom Smith. Derr had not had much as a glimpse of the above performance. For he stood behind and below the big frame of Charlie Shale. But he heard the snarl of teeth and the slam of the door. He immediately shoved Shale out of his way and confronted the drawn gun of the sheriff.

"But 'em—" began the sheriff, but his command was snatched in the middle by a most blood-curdling shriek from behind the sitting room door.

"Oh-h-h! Help! he's killing me!" The sheriff immediately dismissed Derr from his mind and whirled back to the sitting room. It was locked. But three men all moving at once, can accomplish a great deal. The door crashed open. Derr

Found Strength by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Kankakee, Illinois.—"My mother-in-law always took your medicine for weakness, and when the change of life it did her so much good that she induced me to take it for a week and a half. I am taking it again for weakness, as my family doctor has recommended it for this purpose." Mrs. HARRY COULOM, 984 North Harrison Ave., Kankakee, Illinois.

You Can't Give Children Any Kind of Cough Syrup

Children's coughs are so disquieting and so dangerous, and yet you wouldn't dare give them cough medicine that might injure their delicate stomachs or form a drug habit. There is one cough syrup that you can give them with absolute confidence—one made especially for children.

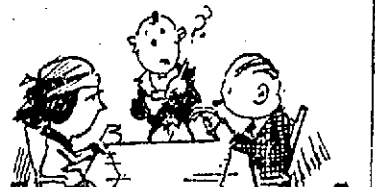

Kiddie Cough Syrup

is a pure, healing cough syrup prescription compounded by a physician and prescribed by numerous physicians for many years. It is guaranteed free from any kind of opiates, and is a safe, effective remedy. Definite results may usually be noted after the fifth or sixth dose.

Dinner Stories

A man and a woman entered a cafe. "Do you want coffee, Louise?" asked the man, as he glanced over the bill of fare. "Yes, George," answered the woman, "but I don't want a haasock, too." George nodded, and as he handed the waiter his written order, he said: "Bring a haasock for the lady." "Yes, sir," answered the waiter, "one haasock." A moment later the waiter, apparently puzzled, approached the man and leaning over him, said: "Excuse me, sir, but I have only been here two days and do not want to make any mistakes. Will the lady have the haasock broiled or fried?"

As an amusing conversation between the proprietor of an optician's and an aged doctor who was just leaving the place with a pair of new spectacles is related to us.

"As the old fellow neared the door he looked upon an extraordinary looking instrument conspicuously placed upon a counter. The venerable person paused for several moments to gaze in open-mouthed wonder at this thing, the like of which he had never seen before.

After a long struggle with his curiosity he was vanquished. Turning to the optician, he asked: "What is that?"

"That is an ophthalmometer," replied the optician in his grave manner.

"Sho," muttered the old man to himself, as he backed out of the door, his eyes still fastened upon the curious-looking thing on the counter. "Sho, dat's what I was afeared it was."

YOUR BABY and MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred is happy to advise all mothers about the care of their children of any age, or any subject which does not belong to the field of the doctor.

Mrs. E. V. S. writes: I have a fine fat healthy baby boy, 5 months old, and weighs eighteen pounds and eight ounces. I nurse him every three hours. Now I have tried to get him to sleep all night from 10:30, but he wakes twice during the night and will not be satisfied with water. Can you suggest some way I might try to get him to sleep? I don't want him to get too fat and wouldn't mind if he would stop eating at night.

I would like to start him on orange juice. Will you please tell me how to prepare it?

Answer: When you are certain that the baby is getting enough nourishment during the day time and doesn't need the extra feed at night, there is just one method of curing the night walking habit and that is to let the baby cry himself to sleep for a night or two, until he finds his waking brings no response, and then he will go to sleep without crying, and shortly will be able to sleep all night. It cannot be broken without some trouble; but it is easier to break it now than when the baby is several months old, and what is more the baby is much better for an uninterrupted night's sleep and no food. Mothers feel themselves so hard hearted and try to delude themselves into thinking that the baby needs food, when it is only because they cannot bear to hear him cry. After a child is over 4 months old and is up to the normal weight, as your baby is, and above that, he can go without food at night with benefit.

Only sweet, ripe oranges. Press out the juice and strain and add an equal quantity of water. Begin with one teaspoonful and increase as the baby gets older.

Notice: Please take note that all we ask for the feeding but given away by this department is the stamped, self-addressed envelope. If you failed to include it the letter will not be sent.

Heart and Home Problems
Letters May be Addressed to Mrs. Thompson, in Care of the Gazette.

ABUSIVE FATHER
Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a married woman, having children, aged 13, 12, and 10, and they are wonderful children. They love their mother and are good workers and spend their money in our home. But their father abuses them and me until they hate him. Also when any one comes into our home he says hateful things to hurt their feelings or else refuses to speak to anyone, never letting on that he hears. He never lets one day pass without abusing one of us.

If he gets real angry he tries to make me leave home and tells us that he won't leave because he intends to put me in my grave. I am a nervous wreck at times from his abusing me. They love and respect their mother and he knows it. He doesn't abuse me then he will sit around and pour for days. Then he will start his abuse again and threaten to kill me.

I have a comfortable home. He works well and gives every cent to his home and I don't abuse a penny of it. I do my work, washing sometimes for two or three families, and I keep my house at its best all the time.

I don't know what to do. My children want me to take a month's vacation—to go when he has room to let them go. They want to go to school. I have gone. They think he would find out that things won't be so nice for him. They would keep house. I have spoken of taking a visit, but he says when I go I can't come back to my home.

Please give me advice. WORRIED MOTHER.

STOP IT!
Make Your Own Cough Mixture for the Whole Family and Save Money. It's Easy.

When you can make in your own home a wonderful cough mixture for ahead of any you can buy ready made, why not do it?

This home made mixture will stop the most stubborn cough and is fine for chest colds and acute catarrh. Children love it.

Get from McCue & Buss or any druggist one ounce of Parment (double strength)—to this add a little granulated sugar—as directed and enough water to make half a pint—this is all there is to it.

Like a soothing, healing poultice one easily substitutes for the mixture made cough mixture spreads itself completely over the membranes of the throat. This causes the most stubborn cough to cough to cough almost instantly. No ordinary slow-acting cough syrup contains this expensive ingredient.

am sure he doesn't mean what he says. If possible I would advise you to get ready for your visit, and then tell him you are going. Do not let him see that he frightens you, because he wouldn't dare hurt you on his threats, but he pretends he would on account of your believing him. You have the advantage over him, because without a doubt you could divorce him, having the children so decidedly on your side. If you go away on a visit you have nothing to fear, because no court would permit him to put you out of the home. I agree with your children that during your absence he will have a taste of life without you and will be more apt to appreciate you on your return. Any way you need the change; it will do you worlds of good.

SHIRKS FORTITUDE
Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young girl in my teens and had been going with a boy until the other evening when I broke a date with him. I didn't know how much I really cared for him until I met him on the street the other night and he didn't speak.

He told a friend of mine that he would like to go back with me until he thinks how I treated him and then he backs out because he thinks I would do it again. But I wouldn't. I didn't know what I was doing when I broke that date.

Sometimes I think I will write him a letter and ask him to forgive me, but I can't pick up courage enough. Yet he still says he loves me. What shall I do?

GIRL IN GREAT DISTRESS.
You might write the boy a short and simple note, telling him you regret breaking the date. Say that you hope he will forgive you, but do not ask him to come back or mention love in any way. There is more chance that he will return if you do not ask it.

Beauty Chats

BY EDNA KENT FORBES ANSWERED LETTERS

E. T. M.—The condition you describe comes sometimes from too much acid in the system. It can be helped by rubbing olive oil or cold cream into the nails every night.

John F.—Continue with the astrin-gent and cream treatments and massage a little of the cream into the lines every day. Follow up either with an ice rub or very cold compresses. Such lines are not serious enough for you to worry about as yet. If your mouth is inclined to droop at the corners force yourself to smile. This is one of the best things for preventing the wrinkles of complaint.

Eleanor G.—I would not advise you to massage the face with cocoa butter to make it stouter. Wildie cocoa butter is nourishing to the skin. It is too heavy for the delicate complexion of the face. If your face is too thin, you are probably too thin all over and need building up.

Mary Ellen—If you are thin on the ends have it singed or clipped every six weeks, or every other time you shampoo. The hot, crude oil will be very helpful.

Mrs. W. T. C.—A round, chubby face need not necessarily be homely; in fact, if it has a pleasant smile on it, it is apt to be very attractive.

Polly E.—Your weight about 15 pounds (too much). I am sure that if you went on a light diet for awhile, cutting out rich and sweet foods, your figure would improve and the pimply condition of the back would clear up.

Miss Seventeen—It is not necessary for either boy or girl to take the other's arm when they are walking. This is an outgrown custom which is rarely seen any more.

Mary S. N.—If you use a good hair tonic on your head and comb your hair simply, it will grow in again as healthy and thick as it used to be.

Reader—Dark eyebrows are very attractive on a girl with light hair. Arrange your heavy, long hair in a coronet braid. For a very dry skin, it is well to use a cleansing cream on the face before washing it. If the skin feels drawn after a massage a very little bit of good cream into the skin, merely enough to relieve the unpleasant sensation, and supply to the skin enough oil for the time being.

James R.—You need a hair tonic and you should massage the scalp every day. If you want it, I will mail you a formula for one, on receipt of a self-addressed, stamped envelope. (Tomorrow—Caring For The Eyes)

CITY GETS "GAS" FOR 13.4 CENTS

Champion Oil Company Awarded Contract for Furnishing First Car.

Janesville will pay 13.4 cents per gallon for its first gasoline bought in a carload lot, which will bring the price down to 12.2 cents. It was announced by City Manager Henry Traxler, Tuesday. The price now being paid by the city for gasoline in small lots is 20.2 cents, he said, so that enough will be saved on the first carload to pay for the new 12-600-cu.-in. tank and pump and installation.

It is estimated the city will use about three carloads a year. The Champion oil company will supply the city with its first carload, its bid of 13.4 cents per gallon, J. O. B. water works, Janesville, state inspected, being the lowest of the three submitted and opened by the manager Monday afternoon. The Standard Oil company's bid was 15.1 cents and the Marshall Oil company offered a carload at 15.3 cents.

All three companies bid on 55-60 navy test gasoline. A carload of gasoline varies from $900 to $1,000, so that a saving of from $500 to $700 is assured on the first car, the manager said.

Sartell Thanked for Work, Given Vacation Money

Appreciation of the loyal service of City Clerk-Treasurer Edwin J. Sartell in his four years with the city, particularly the past year when Janesville was without a city manager for six months, was expressed by the city council in a resolution introduced by Councilman Mrs. Emma H. Manning, Monday night, and passed unanimously.

Mr. Sartell is leaving the city's service next week to work for the Parker Pen company. Following is Mrs. Manning's resolution:

"Whereas, the work of the city clerk was increased owing to the change in our form of government; and

"Whereas, he has been untiring in his efforts to serve, especially during the six months we were without a city manager; and

"Whereas, he is now leaving the service of the city of Janesville;

"Therefore he is resolved that a vote of thanks be given Mr. Sartell by the city council, for the unusual service he has given the city during the past year."

Councilman George A. Jacobs offered an amendment that Mr. Sartell be given two weeks' extra pay in lieu of his 1923 vacation, which he did not take. "This was incorporated in the original motion and unanimously adopted."

It being Mr. Sartell's last council meeting as city clerk, he spoke a few words of regret at leaving the city's service and said he had tried to give his best efforts at all times. He spoke of the pleasure of serving the city and said he would never regret his four years' experience in the city's service.

President J. K. Jensen voiced the council's appreciation of his sentiments and wished him success in his new venture.

Popular Boys' Work Director Leaves April 1 for Long Beach.

A. C. Preston, popular boys' work director of the Janesville Y. M. C. A. since 1917, except for one year, when he served in the navy during the war, has resigned his position, effective April 1. He made this announcement Monday night.

Mr. Preston will become boys' work director of the Long Beach (Cal.) Y. M. C. A. This institution is ranked as one of the finest on the Pacific coast. In his new position, Mr. Preston will have 650 boys and will have considerable community work to do.

When he came here, Mr. Preston succeeded Claude Pencil. Under his directorship, the department grew steadily until it was necessary to procure an assistant. For a while, he worked under the Lovejoy Memorial, but since last September has been devoting the larger part of his time to boys' work at the "Y."

He will move his family to the coast upon taking up his new work.

The Best Cough Syrup is Home-made.

Here's an easy way to save $2, and get the best cough remedy you ever tried.

You've probably heard of this well-known plan of making cough syrup at home. But have you ever used it? Thousands of families, the world over, feel that they could hardly keep their coughs from coming back, and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will soon earn it a permanent place in your home.

Take a pint bottle near 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill up the pint. Or, if desired, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, never spoils, and gives you a full pint of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times its cost.

It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough—usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heals the membranes, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, croup, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

IF RHEUMATIC EAT NO SWEETS

Says glass of Salts help to overcome Rheumatism acid.

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly, keep the feet dry, avoid exposure, and above all, drink plenty of good water and avoid eating sweets of all kind.

Rheumatism is caused by body waste and acids resulting from food fermentation. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this poison from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this waste and acids, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain, called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water, and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is helpful to neutralize acidity, remove waste matter, also to stimulate the kidneys, thus often ridding the blood of rheumatic poison.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism.
